10 ROMANTIC WAYS TO IMPRESS YOUR BAE THIS VALENTINE'S DAY

MAKE THEM SMILE WITH A CANDLELIGHT DINNER, FANCY NIGHT OUT, AND MORE

1 A GARDEN ROMANCE

What's a bouquet when you can give her the whole garden? Pollen, located within the Flower Dome at the iconic Gardens by the Bay, will be offering a six-course dinner menu ($158) from 11 to 14 Feb. The highlight of the menu is a dish created by Executive Chef Steve Allen as an ode to his wife — the Sautéed Scallop, Joselito, Butternut Squash, based on their travels in Barcelona. How sweet!

#01-09 Flower Dome, Gardens by the Bay, 18 Marina Gardens Drive.

2 CELEBRATE WITH A SKY-HIGH DINING EXPERIENCE

For something extra special and exclusive, go for the Ultimate Stellar Valentine Experience ($688 for two), which is limited to five couples on 14 Feb. The extravagant dinner includes sunset drinks at the rooftop, a corsage for the lady, a trip to the garden for an edible floral treat, a tableside dessert art experience and premium window seats with expansive city views.

Level 62, 1 Raffles Place.

3 SAY MAMA MIA TO AN ITALIAN FEAST

For a taste of truly authentic Italian cuisine, head to Acqua e Farina for a Valentine's Day feast on 14 Feb. Diners can enjoy the best of northern and southern Italian cuisine alongside fine vino. Menu highlights include hearty pastas like the homemade Black Fettucine with Hokkaido scallop and prawns, and fennel in light saffron sauce. For meat lovers, there's the Boneless Duck Leg with portobello mushroom and red wine sauce.

400 Upper Bukit Timah Road.

4 DINE AL FRESCO BY THE POOL

Slink back into your chair as you indulge in a leisurely Italian dinner by the pool at Dolce Vita on Valentine's Day. Ease into the evening with a four-course menu ($158) of Zuppa, smoked lobster soup, Brasato, slow-braised Australian beef cheek and more. Alternatively, share the love over a barbeque buffet ($108) at Melt Café's alfresco garden.

Mandarin Oriental, 5 Raffles Avenue.

5 HAVE A CHEESY KOREAN FEAST

If your date is a fan of Kpop or Korean food for that matter, she'll love Patbingsoo Korean Dining House. The newly opened dining concept offers a diverse variety of bingsoo alongside fun and casual Korean street food. Be sure to try the Rolling Cheese Pork Ribs as well as the very photo-worthy Sinsa Patbingsoo — creatively cut in the shape of a rock melon.

#B2-47 Plaza Singapura, 68 Orchard Road.

6 AN AUSTRALIAN AFFAIR

Whether it's an intimate dinner for two or a double date, Salted & Hung's Valentine's Day sharing menu ($120) — available on 11, 13 and 14 Feb, — has everything you could want. Start off with the chef's signature charcuterie board before savouring seafood-centric dishes like citrus-cured Hamachi and charred Carabineros with prawn butter, alongside the Jospier-charred Westholme Wagyu flank.

12 Purvis Street.

7 DINE UNDER THE STARS

Make an impression by romancing your date at Me@OUE, where floor-to-ceiling windows offer views of the sunset and starry skies. Then, enjoy a four-course or six-course menu (from $150) with nourishing dishes like Double Boiled Bamboo Fungus, Castaing Duck Breast, Lychee Raspberry Rose Bavarois and more.

OUE Bayfront Rooftop, 50 Collyer Quay.

8 KICK BACK WITH SOME BAVARIAN BEER

If your idea of true romance is chilling out with your loved one over some rough-and-tumble eats and ice-cold beer, check out Brez'n's three-course Valentine's Day meal ($78) from 11-14 Feb. Dinner includes warm heart-shaped pretzels, the signature Crispy Pork Knuckle and finally, a decadent Molten Chocolate Lava Cake. Knock it all back with some Bavarian beer and you're all set.

#01-21/22/23 Valley Point, 491 River Valley Road.

9 TUCK INTO A LAZY SUNDAY BRUNCH

If you don't fancy the dinner crowd, opt for a memorable Sunday brunch ($88) with your significant other at UNAS' Valentine's Sunday Brunch on 12 Feb. The sumptuous spread includes a 'live' hand-sliced Iberico ham station, appetising tapas, the restaurant's signature roasted suckling pig, paella and more.

1 Rochester Park.

10 SPICE THINGS UP WITH SZECHUAN FLAVOURS

This Valentine's, flock over to Birds Of A Feather with the love of your life for a four-course, spice-tinged dinner ($199 for two) topped with sparkling wine. Using ingredients that represent the flavours of life — sour pickle, sweet dessert, bitter kale and spicy pork ragout — the menu features Pan-Seared Foie Gras with Glutinous Rice Cake, Hong Shao Beef Short Ribs with Japanese Rice and more.

115 Amoy Street.
